DeSoto Iowa National Refuge

A high-angle, wide shot of a vast flock of birds, likely waterfowl, flying over a body of water. The birds are densely packed in some areas, creating a textured, almost solid mass of white and grey against the deep blue water. The sky is a clear, pale blue, and the overall scene conveys a sense of immense scale and natural beauty.

Enjoy Iowa!

We hoped the sights and scenes conveyed the glory, humanity, stability, and deep roots which grow our crops and bind our people
